Benefits for Graduate Student Employees

The Texas A&M University System

Welcome to the A&M System Employment!

Inside:
• Overview of your benefit options
• Details for returning student employees
• Information specifically for international students
This is for you if you are or will be working in a benefit-eligible Graduate Student Employee position at The Texas A&M University System or agency.

All benefit plans, including employee and student health insurance, are reviewed annually by System Benefits Administration. The cost for each plan is set using many factors including plan design, plan participation and claims experience.

System Benefits Administration works with other groups to administer these plans:

- Academic Health Plans (AHP) - Administers the student plans, including the Grad Plan and the Student Health Insurance Plan (SHIP), and coordinates the waiver process for international students.

- BlueCross and BlueShield of Texas - Underwrites the Student, Graduate and Employee health insurance plans which includes managing claims and providing other health and wellness benefits.

- International Student Office - Assists international students with the unique needs of studying and working in the United States.

- Human Resources Department - Works with employees on payroll, benefits and other employment-related issues.

- Campus Student Health Services - Services available at the student health centers are offered at no or low cost under the SHIP and there is often someone there that can help you with health insurance questions.
Returning Graduate Student Employees:

If you currently carry M System health insurance -

Contact your employing department regarding your return to work plans as early as possible. As long as you return to work by September 1 and you are added to payroll in a timely manner, you will automatically continue with your existing benefits.

This will also automatically start the waiver process for international graduate student employees who are enrolled in the Grad Plan and have been charged through the fee statement.

If you are an international student and you have alternate (non-M System) health insurance -

Contact your employing department regarding your return to work plans as early as possible. As long as you return to work by September 1 and you are returned to payroll in a timely manner, you will automatically continue with any existing benefits you previously elected. You will need to submit a waiver application by the due date for the upcoming year to have the automatic SHIP health insurance charge removed from your fee statement and a refund processed, if needed. See Waiver Process, for more information.
As a Graduate Student in a benefits-eligible campus job, you will be offered a range of benefits including health insurance, dental, vision, life insurance, long term disability and others for you and your eligible dependents. Each of these has an associated cost.

In addition, you will be eligible for the state contribution to help you pay for your benefits. This contribution will be available for you starting with the first day of the month after 60 days of continuous employment. Because you are in a part-time position, you will receive half of the monthly contribution.

The Grad Plan, while not the only available health plan, is designed with you in mind. It is compliant with the ACA, fills J visa requirements, and covers all medical evacuation and repatriation requirements for international students. In addition it is offered at a price that will be entirely covered by your state contribution after your state contribution start date for employee-only coverage. And, if you have dependents to cover, you can enroll them into the Grad Plan as well, for a cost.

Your employing department will set you up to enroll through iBenefits, available through the System web portal, Single Sign-On sso.tamus.edu (SSO). Once in your iBenefits document, you can customize the information for your situation. You can also try different enrollments to see the effect on your paycheck. See “Enrolling in iBenefits through SSO” in this brochure for detailed enrollment instructions.

Be sure to note your state contribution start date. It is the first of the month following 60 days of continuous employment. For example, if you start on September 1, your contribution will begin on November 1.

You may begin coverage on your first day of employment (provided you submit your iBenefits document within 7 days of your first day) or any first of the month following that (provided you submit your iBenefits document before the enrollment date), up to and including your state contribution start date.

You have 60 days to enroll or decline coverage. If you are an international student, see some important recommendations on following page. If you do not make an election or decline coverage, you will be defaulted into the A&M Care (employee) plan, which will cost you money.

Most individual taxpayers in the United States are required to carry health insurance in order to comply with the Affordable Care Act (ACA). You may be covered under a parent or have other coverage. Individuals who don't carry any health insurance may be subject to a tax penalty for not having coverage.
New International Students:

International students who will enroll in the TAMU System Grad Plan:

If you will be in the United States as an “early arrival” (any time before September 1), you must purchase a short-term “gap” plan for the month of August and any earlier months you are in the United States, through Academic Health Plans (AHP). In some cases the student, including anyone assisted by the International Student Services (ISS) Office at Texas A&M’s main College Station campus, will be automatically enrolled in this gap plan and charged on their fee statement. To enroll in a gap plan, go to AHP and select your campus. Print the form for International Early Arrival Enrollment under “Enrollment.” Complete the form and submit it directly to AHP.

If your hire date is September 1 or before, we recommend that you enroll in iBenefits (through Single Sign-On – sso.tamu.edu) within seven days of your start date. If you do this:

- you begin coverage on September 1;
- your cost will be deducted from your paycheck before taxes until the state contribution date; and
- if you have enrolled in the Grad Plan, you will be automatically entered into the waiver process to remove the health insurance cost from your fee statement and process a refund if necessary.

See “Enrolling in iBenefits through SSO” in this brochure for detailed enrollment instructions.

Note: If you enroll in either the A&M Care (employee) plan or the J Plan, you will need to go through the waiver process to remove the charge from your fee statement.

International students who carry health insurance through a source other than the TAMU System:

1. Please go online to iBenefits (through Single Sign-On – sso.tamu.edu) as soon as possible, decline medical coverage and submit your enrollment document. If you do not do this, you will be automatically enrolled into the A&M Care (employee) plan, which will cost money.

   See “Enrolling in iBenefits through SSO” in this brochure for detailed enrollment instructions.

2. You will need to complete an online waiver application through AHP to remove the health insurance cost from your fee statement. See insurance Waiver Process, for complete instructions.

The waiver process includes an evaluation of whether or not your plan satisfies both ACA requirements and required provisions for medical evacuation and repatriation. Different coverage requirements exist for students on J visas and their dependents. If your plan has everything except medical evacuation and repatriation, you can enroll in a plan through AHP that will supplement your other plan and you will be charged the additional amount for that extra coverage.
Enrolling in iBenefits Through Single Sign-On (SSO):

Using iBenefits and Single Sign-On (SSO)

Note: The following information is intended for new international graduate student employees, who should follow this as closely as possible. While the instructions are the same for United States citizens and legal permanent residents, more options exist for these individuals, since there are fewer requirements. See the New Graduate Student Employee section or your human resources representative for more information.

International students should sign up for or decline insurance within the first 7 days of employment. If you hold other, non-A&M System health insurance, please decline medical coverage through SSO/iBenefits, certifying other coverage, and submit a waiver through the waiver process. You may want to enroll in other optional Texas A&M insurance plans such as dental or vision coverage since you may use the state contribution to pay for these.

Go to the site – sso.tamus.edu. Enter your UIN and click on “New Employees – Set up your password”

Follow the prompts. The only information you will need from your department is your ADLOC. This will be on your iBenefits instruction sheet or available from your human resources representative.

After logging in, you will be presented with a list of applications for which you may be authorized. Select “iBenefits.”
On the following screen click on “Click here to Get Started.”
On the next few screens, you will be prompted to verify your personal information and list an emergency contact.

On the next screen, choose “I want to enroll in A&M System benefits.” Select “Continue.”
The following 4 screens will have important rules and instructions.

Indicate your tobacco status on the next screen. Select “Continue.”
On the following screen, under Medical Coverage,
- If you hold other medical insurance and want to decline our coverage, select “I DO NOT want to enroll in UI&G system medical coverage”
- Otherwise, select “I want to enroll in UI&G system medical coverage” and choose start date.
  - If available, choose September 1 or January 1
  - Otherwise, choose a date that best meets your situation. See your Human Resources representative for help.

Under Optional Coverage, you may select those as well (example: dental, vision), but it is not required.
When complete, click “Continue.”

On the following screen, click on “edit” to select your plan. On the following screen, select “Grad Plan.” It should give you similar costs to what is shown below. Click “Save.”

You will need to enter beneficiaries (the person who will receive benefits if you die) for your basic life insurance plan. Click on the “Basic Life” tab and then click on

Enter the information for the beneficiary. Click “Save.”

Review the summary screen for accuracy. Once complete, click “Sign and Submit.”

Enter your UIN in the box indicating your agreement and click on “Submit.”
You have now completed your benefits enrollment. If you need to make changes, please contact your human resources representative as soon as possible.

For international students, continue to the Waiver Process for important information regarding removing the insurance charge from your fee statement, and processing a refund, if needed.
Waiver Process for International Students:

As a Graduate Student Employee, you either carry health insurance through an outside party such as a parent or sponsoring organization or you will probably enroll in the A&M System, health plan, usually the Grad Plan.

a) If you hold health insurance coverage other than the Grad Plan:
If you have alternative health insurance coverage other than the Grad Plan offered to Graduate Student Employees, you will need to go through a waiver application process through Academic Health Plans (AHP) to have the charge removed from your fee schedule through your institution or receive a refund from AHP.

1. Go online into iBenefits/SSO and decline medical coverage as soon as possible. Ensure you sign and submit your enrollment.
2. Submit a waiver application using the Waiver Process instructions below.

b) If you do not have other coverage, you intend to enroll in or are currently enrolled in the Grad Plan, and:

- You were hired on or before September 1 (January 1 for spring semester)
- You enroll within 7 days of your date of hire using iBenefits through SSO (unless currently enrolled);
- You choose a September 1 benefit start date (January 1 for spring semester);

Then:

- This enrollment will automatically trigger the waiver, fee removal, and refund process, if required. This process takes approximately 7-10 business days from the date of your iBenefits enrollment.
- You will pay the full amount of coverage from your paycheck for the first two months. After that, the state contribution will cover your premium.

If the above isn’t followed, there will likely be problems with your waiver application. See the end of this section for a description of those problems and what to expect.

Do I have to do another waiver application next semester?
Not necessarily. A waiver approved in the fall of any academic year will be approved through the end of that academic year (through 8/31). A new waiver will need to be submitted each new academic year. If you continue to be employed in the spring semester and enrolled in the Grad Plan, a waiver request will be automatically submitted for you.
How to Submit your Waiver Application

See your International Student Office for the waiver deadline for your particular institution. It is normally early in the semester.

If you enrolled in the Grad Plan for a September 1 or January 1 start, your waiver application will be automatically entered for you. If you have alternative health insurance coverage other than the Grad Plan offered to Graduate Student Employees, you will need to go through a waiver application process through Academic Health Plans (AHP) to have the charge removed from your fee schedule through your institution or receive a refund from AHP.

Student Health Insurance Plan Waiver Requirements

The Texas A&M University System has established five circumstances in which an international student can request a waiver to the student health insurance plan by providing alternative health insurance coverage. In order to be approved for a waiver, your alternate health coverage must meet the requirements as set in the System Regulation and be submitted with proof documentation prior to the deadline to AHP.

Please review the information below to ensure you qualify for a waiver before submitting your request.

- Student is sponsored by the United States government;
- Student is sponsored by a foreign government recognized by the United States or certain international, government-sponsored or non-governmental organizations, and covered under a health plan that is compliant with the Affordable Care Act (ACA). If the health plan does not include medical evacuation and repatriation, an additional policy covering these services must be purchased providing coverage at equal limits to the SHIP;
- Student is enrolled in an employer-provided group health plan that is compliant with the ACA. If the health plan does not include medical evacuation and repatriation, an additional policy covering these services must be purchased providing coverage at equal limits to the SHIP. This includes any A&M System health plan other than the Grad Plan;
- Student is enrolled in only distance learning programs; or
- Student is involved in intercollegiate athletics and coverage for all medical insurance is provided through a policy as part of the current sports accident medical policy approved by System Risk Management.
Have the following scanned documents ready before submitting your waiver information:

1. A scanned copy of the front and back of your health insurance ID card
2. A scanned copy of your complete policy in English and using United States dollars, including exclusions & limitations and dependent coverage

Apply for a Waiver Through AHP

1. Have a scanned copy of your insurance card and benefit policy including exclusions, as well as your Student ID NUMBER ready.
2. Go to https://tamus.myahpcare.com/
3. Scroll down and select your campus. On the new page, select the Waiver tab.
4. Review the Texas A&M University System waiver criteria and if your plan meets the criteria, click the link at the bottom of the page to begin your waiver request.
5. If you previously used this waiver system please login by using your Student ID # and your previous password. If you did not change your password, it may be your date of birth in the format of MMDDYYYY. If you are new to the waiver system, click on “New Student Registration.”

6. New students should provide the information requested on the screen below. Click the “Register” button.

7. You will then get to the Student Dashboard. Click on the waiver link found under “Submit Waivers.”
8. Enter all information and attach the scanned copies of your documents. Click the “Submit Waiver” button.

The waiver process includes an evaluation of whether or not your plan satisfies both ACA requirements and required provisions for medical evacuation and repatriation. Different coverage requirements exist for students on J visas and their dependents. If your plan has everything except medical evacuation and repatriation, you can enroll in a plan through Academic Health Plans that will supplement your other plan to make it compliant and you will be charged the appropriate amount for that extra coverage.

Once your waiver is submitted and your proof documentation is received by AHP, you will be notified via email within 7-10 business days of the status of your waiver request, including an offer to purchase the additional coverage if necessary. You may also log into your AHP waiver account to check your status. It may take up to 7-10 business days once the waiver has been approved to process a refund through your tuition and fees. If your tuition bill is due before your waiver application is processed, pay the fee and if approved, the refund will be processed at a later date.

Please contact Academic Health Plans at 877-624-7911 if you have questions about this waiver process.
Note for J1 Visas and J2 Dependents

All J2 dependents must have adequate health insurance at all times. The insurance requirements are established by the United States Department of State and federal regulations. Click here to see the requirements.

J2 dependents are eligible to purchase dependent insurance through the Grad Plan. However, if the J2 dependents prefer to show alternative health insurance coverage, then the coverage must be submitted to the International Student Office (if you work with Texas A&M Main Campus International Student Services, you should send it to healthinsurance@tamu.edu) no later than the waiver due date for the current semester.

The alternative health insurance coverage must meet all the minimum benefit levels of the J regulations and include maternity and mental health coverage. To view the J minimum health insurance coverage detail click here.

Your benefits continue through the last day of the month in which you terminate employment.

If you are an international student, you will still be required to carry health insurance while in the United States. Please notify your International Student Office as soon as you know the end date of your insurance through employment to ensure that they enroll you into the required insurance after your job ends. The charge for health insurance will be added to your fee statement.

For United States citizens and legal permanent residents, you will want to consider your options for carrying health insurance. Most individual taxpayers in the United States must carry health insurance in order to comply with the Affordable Care Act (ACA). Individuals who don’t may be subject to a tax penalty for not having coverage.

Options to satisfy the ACA:

- Enroll in the Texas A&M University System Student Health Insurance Plan (SHIP) through AHP. If you are interested in this option, it is best to enroll as a new or returning enrollee through AHP with a “Change in Status” within 30 days of the date your coverage ends. The loss of coverage due to your job ending qualifies as a change in status.
- Be covered elsewhere through a parent, outside employer, or through the health insurance marketplace.

You will receive information by mail on how to continue your benefits through AHP. The continuation coverage is the same plan as the Texas A&M University System Student Health Insurance Plan (SHIP), but is only available for a short time.

This might be your first experience with employee benefits, so we hope this section will help you navigate your decisions.

Q: Am I eligible?

A: Yes, if you are in a Graduate Student Employee position that is considered benefit-eligible (ask your employing department if you are unsure).

Q: What plans can I choose?

A: You are eligible for the full range of employee benefits offered to all regular employees which you can see on the Texas A&M System Employee Benefits website. This includes, but is not limited to, health insurance, dental, vision, life insurance, accidental death & dismemberment plans and a long-term disability plan. You may also add eligible family members to your plan(s). After a waiting period, you will be eligible for the state contribution toward your benefits. Assuming you are in a part-time position, this means you will receive half of the state contribution, which in most cases will completely cover the employee-only cost of your health insurance when you enroll in the Grad Plan.

Q: How much does it cost?

A: You can see all of the premium information on the A&M System Employee Benefits website or you can use iBenefits, available through your Single Sign-On account (SSO – sso.tamus.edu) to put in information for your specific situation, which may include choosing either the Grad or the A&M Care (employee) plan. It will also calculate your state contribution, display when the contribution will begin and show you how much will come out of your paycheck. See “Enrolling in iBenefits through SSO” in this brochure for detailed enrollment instructions. You may also ask your employing department for more information.

Q: Do I really need benefits?

A: It depends on your situation. Most taxpayers, in order to comply with Federal requirements, need to carry health insurance. All international students must carry health insurance. You may, however, have this coverage through someone else such as a parent or insurance offered through a sponsoring organization (usually international students).
Q: What if I already have health insurance?

A: You may opt-out of health insurance or all coverage if you wish. You will, however, need to go into iBenefits to decline benefits, because you will be enrolled into the A&M Care (employee) plan if you fail to make a choice, and this will cost you money. If you are an international student with a plan other than the Grad Plan, in addition to declining all coverage, you will need to submit a waiver application to Academic Health Plans (AHP). See Waiver Process for more information.

Q: When does my insurance end?

A: Your insurance coverage through employment will end the last day of the month in which you terminate employment. If you intend to return to employment in the fall after having worked during the spring semester, see your department human resources representative for continuation information.

Q: What happens to my benefits in the summer if I plan to return in the fall?

A: The way that benefits are handled over the summer depends on your department and institution. Discuss the details with your department’s human resources representative. Ask about whether or not your coverage will continue over the summer, whether you will need to pay for the coverage yourself, if you will have a new state contribution waiting period when you return, and when coverage may end if you don’t return or the position is no longer available.

Q: If you have had a major life event that affects your A&M System health insurance or other benefits?

A: If, at any time during the year, you have had a major life event including being covered/dropped by a parent’s health insurance, getting married or having a child or other event that may affect your benefits, contact your employing department or employee benefits representative for assistance within 60 days of the event. You may have to make these changes on a paper form, but benefit selections can be modified to reflect your situation.
