

Flexible Spending Accounts

Updated July 2026

Introduction

The Texas A&M University System provides two Flexible Spending Accounts. These voluntary programs allow you to pay certain health and dependent day care expenses with before-tax dollars.

The A&M System recognizes that you and your coworkers have different lifestyles, different family sizes and different benefit needs. That's why the A&M System gives you the opportunity to make some choices about the benefits you want and need — choices like whether to participate in one or both of the Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs) and to what extent.

This booklet describes your Flexible Spending Account options. It provides a summary of plan provisions in everyday language. Most of your questions can be answered by referring to this booklet.

Through the plan, you can receive tax advantages by creating FSAs using before-tax dollars. This lowers your taxable income — thereby reducing your federal income and Social Security taxes.

This booklet does not contain every detail about your plan. All details are included in the plan document. The plan document is the final word on all plan provisions. In case of any discrepancy between this booklet and the plan document, the plan document will govern. This booklet is neither a contract of current or future employment nor a guarantee of payment of benefits. The System reserves the right to change or end the benefits described in this booklet at any time, for any reason. Clerical or enrollment errors do not obligate the plan to pay benefits. Errors, when discovered, will be corrected according to the provisions of the plan description and published procedures of the A&M System.

Participation

All full-time and some part-time employees are eligible to participate in the Flexible Spending Accounts. Participation is voluntary.

You are eligible to participate in the Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs) if you:

- are eligible to participate in the Teacher Retirement System of Texas (TRS) or Optional Retirement Program (ORP), and
- work at least 50% time for at least 4½ months.

You also may join the plan if you are:

- a graduate student employee, and
- you work at least 50% time for at least 4½ months.

Participation is voluntary.

Enrolling in the Plan

You may enroll in FSAs online through Workday.

You must enroll in benefits within 31 days from the date you become eligible. You have some options on when your coverage begins:

- You can elect coverage for you and your dependents to take effect on your hire date if you enroll before, on, or within seven days after your hire date
- You can elect for coverage to begin on the first of the month following hire/initial eligibility if you enroll before the end of the month of your hire/ initial eligibility.
- If you enroll beyond the seventh day after your hire date, but during your 31-day enrollment period, your coverage will take effect on your employer contribution eligibility date (the first of the month after your 60th day of employment).

You must re-enroll each year during Open Enrollment if you wish to continue your participation in the next plan year. Your participation begins the following September 1 for elections made during Open Enrollment.

Qualifying Life Events

Due to federal law, your decision to participate in the FSAs will remain in effect for the entire plan year — September 1 (or your start date) through August 31 — unless you have a Qualifying Life Event, as defined on the next page.

Changes in your FSAs during a plan year must be consistent with your Life Event, as shown on the chart, and must be made within 31 days of the Life Event. If you increase your monthly contribution as a result of a Life Event, charges incurred before the increase can be reimbursed only up to the original plan benefit amount. When you submit your change in Workday, the change will take effect the first of the following month. However, you will not see a change in your contribution amount until the first pay period of the month following the month in which your change takes effect.

During each Open Enrollment period, you can enroll, re-enroll or decline participation in the plan. You must re-enroll every year to continue participation. At that time, you may change the amount you contribute to your FSAs.

In all cases, the change in coverage must be consistent with the Change in Status.

Employees on leave without pay must make monthly Health Care Account contributions to retain coverage.

How Flexible Spending Accounts Work

When you enroll in an FSA, each pay period, you contribute using before-tax dollars. When you have a qualifying expense, you can use the before-tax dollars in your account to pay it. This means you pay less tax.

Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs) allow you to pay certain health care and dependent day care expenses with before-tax dollars.

You do not pay federal income tax or Social Security tax on the money that you put into your FSAs. Also, when you use funds from your account(s), you pay no federal income or Social Security tax on the reimbursement.

How They Work

During enrollment, you decide how much money you and your family will spend on eligible health care and/or dependent day care expenses for the plan year — September 1 (or your start date) through August 31.

This amount will be deducted, before taxes, in equal amounts (in most cases) from each of your paychecks from which health premiums are deducted during the year.

The amounts that you specify during enrollment will go into your Health Care and/or Dependent Day Care Account(s). During the year, as you have eligible health care or dependent day care expenses, you can use money from your FSAs to pay the expenses or to reimburse yourself. You earn no interest on the money in your FSAs.

Deduction

For 12-month employees, your FSA deductions are taken every month. Full-time, monthly paid, less than 12-month employees who are employed and receiving an employer contribution in September will have 12 months of deductions from 9 months of pay. All other employees working less than 12 months, and participating graduate students returning in the fall will have 4 months of deductions taken in May, just like your other benefits deductions, such as medical and dental premiums.

However, you can continue to use your remaining FSA account balances for eligible expenses for the rest of the plan year.

Federal Tax Code Restrictions

Because of the tax advantages of the plan, the Federal Tax Code places certain limitations on this type of plan:

- Your FSAs must be used only for eligible expenses incurred between the date your participation began and August 31 (or November 15 if you are eligible for the grace period). In other words, you must receive the service during that period. The date you pay the bill does not have to be within that period as long as the expense was incurred during that period. In some cases, health care expenses incurred may not be eligible.
- Once you put money into your FSAs, the money must remain in those accounts. You cannot transfer money between accounts or to a spouse's account, or take it out for any reason other than to pay for an eligible expense that you or any eligible dependent have during the plan year.
- Plan carefully how much money to put in your FSAs. Due to federal law, you will forfeit— or lose — any money in your accounts that you have not used by August 31 (or the following November 15). Forfeitures are used to offset administrative expenses. The System is prohibited from returning forfeited money directly to you.

Visit the Navia website for the FSA calculator.

Effect on Benefits

You save taxes on dollars you contribute to the Flexible Spending Accounts using before-tax dollars. Your W-2 will show your salary as reduced by the amounts you contributed to the FSAs and any other pre-tax deductions.

Pre-tax deductions do not reduce your base pay for purposes of pay increases or for calculating most benefits based on pay.

Benefits that are not affected by participation in the FSAs include:

- Teacher Retirement System
- Optional Retirement Program
- Long-Term Disability Insurance
- Basic, Optional and Dependent Life Insurance
- Accidental Death and Dismemberment Insurance
- Longevity, hazardous duty or overtime pay
- Sick leave and vacation pay
- Unemployment and workers' compensation insurance

Flexible Spending Account Grace Period

The grace period is a provision under federal law that allows the A&M System to extend the time Flexible Spending Account participants have to use funds in their Health Care and/or Dependent Day Care Spending Accounts. Under this provision, if you are actively employed or contributing through COBRA and have funds remaining in your accounts at the end of the plan year, (August 31), you can use those funds to pay expenses incurred during the next two and a half months (in other words, through November 15). Active employees who were enrolled in a Flexible Spending Account, but did not enroll in the next plan year, are still eligible to submit claims during the grace period.

For employees who re-enroll, claims incurred in the new plan year (dates of service September 1 through November 15) will be paid using funds, if any, from your prior year's account balance. Once the prior year's balance is exhausted, remaining claims will be applied toward the current year. This process will help minimize your forfeitures from the previous year's account. You will need to call Navia directly and request an adjustment if a claim submitted for services in the previous year is denied due to a claim for the current year being paid and exhausting funds from the previous year.

You have until December 31 to file claims for the year ending August 31.

Health Care Account

You can be reimbursed up to $3,400 in a plan year from a Health Care Account. You can use this account to pay for eligible health care expenses for yourself and your family with before tax dollars.

Your Health Care Account gives you a way to pay expenses with before-tax dollars that your medical, dental or vision plan does not pay. It does not replace or change your current health care coverage.

You do not have to be enrolled in an A&M System medical, dental or vision plan to participate in the health care flexible spending account program.

Contribution Rates

You can contribute any amount up to $3,400 a year. If you and your spouse both work for the A&M System, one or both of you can have Health Care Accounts. If you both have accounts, you can each contribute up to $3,400 a year.

Eligible Dependents

Health care expenses for a dependent child may qualify for reimbursement through the end of the calendar year in which the child turns 26 years of age.

Eligible Expenses

Eligible health care expenses include deductibles, copayments and coinsurance payments under your medical, dental and vision coverage. They also include medical, dental, vision and hearing care services not covered by your insurance.

In general, you can use the Health Care Account to pay any expenses that you could otherwise deduct as medical expenses (excluding Long-Term Care insurance premiums or expenses) on your federal income tax return. However, you cannot use the Health Care Account and take an income tax deduction for the same expense. Here are some examples of the types of expenses that qualify for the Health Care Account:

- Health plan deductibles
- Copayments/coinsurance
- Prescription drugs (excluding those for cosmetic reasons)
- Eye exams
- Eyeglasses/contact lenses and supplies
- LASIK surgery
- Seeing eye dog
- Hearing exams
- Hearing aids
- Dental care
- Orthodontia
- Insulin
- Automobile modifications
- Illness-related transportation
- Smoking cessation programs and prescribed drugs
- Braille books/magazines
- Hearing devices
- Lip reading lessons
- Rest home
- Acupuncture
- Ambulance services

For a detailed list of eligible health care expenses, you can obtain IRS Publication 502 on the IRS website or by calling 1 (800) 829-3676 or 1 (800) 829-1040.

Over-the-counter drugs are not listed in Publication 502, but information is available on Navia's website Eligible & Ineligible Expenses page.

You will be able to submit, and be paid for, claims up to the amount of your annual contribution. For example, if you elect to contribute $1,200 for the year and incur $1,200 in eligible expenses during the first month of the plan year, the plan will reimburse you for the full $1,200 upon receipt of a valid claim.

Leave of Absence

If you take a leave of absence without pay (LWOP), money will not be automatically contributed to your FSA during the time you are not receiving a paycheck.

To access your funds for eligible expenses incurred during your LWOP, you must continue contributing through direct after-tax payment to your Health Care Account while on LWOP.

If you continue to contribute to your FSA while on LWOP, when you return to work, your contributions will, once again, be deducted before-tax from your paycheck for the remainder of the plan year.

After you begin leave, you will receive a form from Navia, the claims administrator, if you have not already been reimbursed more than you have contributed. You must complete and return this form within 31-days from the mailing date shown on the form to continue making contributions. If you have questions, contact Navia at 1 (800) 669-3539 or your Human Resources office.

If you decide not to contribute to your account while you are on leave, only eligible medical expenses that were incurred before your LWOP can be reimbursed. You may submit claims for those expenses through Dec. 31 of the next plan year.

If you do not contribute while on leave, your FSA deductions will not resume when you return to work, and you will not be able to participate in an FSA until the following plan year.

In either case, if you return to work in a different plan year, you may re-enroll with new contribution amounts within 60 days of your return to work.

Family and Medical Leave

If you take an unpaid family or medical leave under the Family and Medical Leave Act, you may continue to make your normal monthly contribution to your Health Care Spending Account. If you do not continue to contribute while on leave, you may not use your account for any expenses incurred during your leave, and you will forfeit any amount left in your account when you drop your participation.

The Heroes Earnings Assistance and Relief Tax Act (HEART)

The Heroes Earnings Assistance and Relief Tax Act of 2008 (H.R. 6081) was signed into law and went into effect on June 17, 2008. The HEART Act provides a broad range of personal and employment related benefits for military personnel and their families.

A participant is eligible if he/she is a qualified reservist called to active duty for 180 days or more. A qualified reservist is a member of the Army National Guard, the Army Reserve, the Navy Reserve, the Marine Corps Reserve, the Air National Guard, the Air Force Reserve, the Coast Guard Reserve, or the Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

The Act amends plan rules to allow distributions of all or a portion of the health care FSA balance without incurring medical expenses.

The distribution must be made during the period beginning on the date of an order or call to active duty and ending on the last day of the coverage period that includes the date of the call.

Leaving the System or Retiring

If you leave the System or retire before the end of the plan year, you will no longer be able to contribute to your FSA with before-tax dollars.

According to federal COBRA regulations, you can be reimbursed only for eligible claims incurred before withdrawing from the plan unless you elect to continue making contributions for the remainder of the plan year.

After your termination of employment, you will receive a form from Navia. Complete and return the form within 60 days from the mailing date shown on the form if you intend to continue making after-tax contributions through COBRA.

With this election, you make the monthly contribution directly to Navia. This allows you to continue to receive reimbursement for claims incurred after your employment termination date, through the end of the plan year.

Once you stop making contributions, you may file claims only for expenses incurred before you stopped contributing to the plan. If you return to A&M System employment within 30 days, you must resume contributing to your FSA. However, you cannot change your contribution amount.

If you return to A&M System employment after 30 days, you can choose to enroll as a new employee if you did not continue your participation through COBRA. If you continued participation through COBRA, when you return you can choose to resume before tax contributions at the level you elected at the beginning of the plan year. If you have questions, contact Navia or your Human Resources office.

Health Care Expenses Not Eligible

The Health Care Account cannot be used to reimburse you for:

- any insurance premiums, including premiums for your A&M System health, dental or other coverages, your spouse's premiums from another employer's plans or premiums for a private health plan or other insurance for you or your dependents;
- Long-Term Care insurance premiums or expenses;
- cosmetic surgeries, treatments or medications unless they are necessary to correct a deformity:
 - directly related to a congenital abnormality,
 - resulting from an accident or trauma, or
 - resulting from a disfiguring disease;
- procedures such as hair removal electrolysis, hair transplants, lipo suction and face lift operations are considered cosmetic and are generally not eligible;
- exercise programs and equipment, unless prescribed for treatment of an injury or specific illness;

- any expense paid by an insurance plan;
- any expense you deduct on your federal income tax return.

If You Die

According to federal regulations, if you die before the end of the plan year, your family can be reimbursed only for eligible claims incurred before your death unless they elect to continue making contributions through COBRA for the remainder of the plan year.

If you die, your beneficiary will receive a form from Navia. Your beneficiary should complete the form and return it to Navia within 60 days if he/she wants to continue making contributions through COBRA.

With this election, the beneficiary, or other family member, pays the monthly contribution, after taxes, directly to Navia. The beneficiary or family member can then continue to receive reimbursements for claims incurred after your death, through the end of the plan year.

Reimbursing the Plan

If you leave A&M System employment, retire, go on leave without pay, experience a Change in Status or die, and you have been reimbursed for more than you have put into your Health Care Spending Account, you or your beneficiary do not have to reimburse the plan.

Dependent Day Care Account

You can contribute up to $7,500 to the Dependent Day Care Account on a before-tax basis. You can use this money to pay yourself back for eligible day care or elder care expenses necessary to allow you and your spouse to work.

The Dependent Day Care Account allows you to pay expenses, before taxes, for the care of your dependent(s) while you and your spouse work or look for work. You may not use the account to pay for your dependent's health care expenses.

The government regulates who qualifies for dependent day care reimbursement, what dependents qualify for reimbursable care and the dependent day care providers who are eligible to submit for reimbursement from this type of account. These are described in IRS Publication 503. You may obtain a copy at IRS Publication 503 or by calling 1 (800) 829-3676 or 1 (800) 829-1040. This information is also available on Navia's website.

When you use the Dependent Day Care Account, you must file IRS Form 2441 with your annual income tax return. On this form, you must show the amount you contributed to the account and give the tax identification number for the person or organization that provided care for your dependent. Your care provider should provide this number. For an individual day care provider, you usually use that person's Social Security number. A business will have a separate number.

Eligible/Ineligible Day Care Expenses

Dependent day care expenses qualify for the FSA only if the care is provided to allow you and your spouse to both work or look for work. Or, care can be provided to allow you to work or look for work if:

- you are single,
- your spouse is a full-time student, or
- your spouse is mentally or physically disabled.

The Dependent Day Care Account can be used to reimburse you for expenses such as:

- day care fees for children 12 or younger or older disabled dependents
- babysitting fees (work-related only)

The Dependent Day Care Account cannot be used to reimburse you for expenses such as:

- kindergarten fees
- tuition for private school, grades K–12
- overnight camps and extracurricular lessons
- supply fees
- club or organization membership fees

Contribution Rates

The maximum contribution is per household is $7,500 unless you are married and file a separate tax return. In that case, your maximum contribution is $3,750.

If you and your spouse both work for the A&M System, you can set up one or two Dependent Day Care Accounts. However, if you have two accounts, the total of the accounts cannot be more than $7,500 a year.

If you voluntarily change day care providers, you cannot change your Dependent Day Care Account contributions. However, if your day care closes or changes its rates, you can make changes to your contribution amount.

Dependent Day Care Account vs. Tax Credit

You may not use the Dependent Day Care Account for expenses you use towards the child care tax credit on your income tax return. The same kinds of expenses are eligible for the Dependent Day Care Account and the child care tax credit. The advantage of using the Dependent Day Care Account varies according to your income. At certain salary levels, taking the tax credit on your income tax return may be better than using the FSA.

If you choose to pay your expenses through the Dependent Day Care Account, you may not deduct these same expenses on your income tax return. Likewise, if you use the tax credit on your IRS return, you cannot reimburse yourself through the Dependent Day Care Account for those same expenses. You may, however, use the account for some expenses and the credit for other expenses. In this case, any amount you pay through the Dependent Day Care Account will offset your maximum expense available for the tax credit.

Please consult with a tax advisor to determine what is best for you and your family.

Eligible Dependents

For your day care expenses to be eligible, the dependent receiving the care must share your home at least eight hours a day and be:

- a child 12 or younger who is claimed as a dependent on your tax return, or
- a person who is at least 13 years old, such as your parent, spouse or older child, who requires care due to a physical or mental disability and is claimed as a dependent on your tax return, or could be claimed except for that person's income.

If you use the Dependent Day Care Account for adult day care, the dependent being claimed must live with you and must not earn more than $3,200 per year.

In certain cases of divorce or separation, you may use the Dependent Day Care Account if you have custody of a child even if you do not claim the child as a dependent on your tax return. If this applies to you, you may wish to consult an attorney before you enroll in the FSA.

Day Care Providers

Dependent day care must be provided by a licensed day care center or persons who are not claimed as dependents on your tax return. This would include an after-school program through your local school system.

You may pay someone who lives with you, such as your parent, to provide care, as long as you do not claim that person as a dependent on your tax return. You may pay your child to provide care only if the child is 19 or older and you do not claim the child as a dependent on your tax return.

Leave of Absence

If you take a leave without pay (LWOP), no money will be contributed to your FSA while you are not receiving a paycheck. However, you can continue to submit claims during the plan year for eligible expenses incurred before going on leave without pay as long as you have money in your account.

If you return to work within the same plan year, your participation will begin at the same level of contribution. If you return in a new plan year, you may reenroll with new contribution amounts within 31 days of your return.

If You Leave the System

If you leave the A&M System before the end of the plan year, you will no longer be able to contribute to your Dependent Day Care Account. However, you may continue to submit claims for expenses incurred through the end of the plan year (August 31) against the balance in your account as of the date you terminated employment.

If you return to A&M System employment within 30 days, you can resume contributing to your Spending Account. However, you cannot change your contribution amount. COBRA continuation does not apply to the Dependent Day Care Account.

If You Die

If you die before the end of the plan year, your family can continue to submit claims for eligible expenses incurred before the end of the plan year (August 31), as long as there is a balance in the account.

Accessing Your Funds

Debit Card

When you sign up for a Flexible Spending Account (FSA) plan, you will automatically receive a debit card. There is no charge to the participant for the debit card.

- The card will be mailed to you
- You can request additional cards for dependents at no extra charge
- The card is good for three years. Once you deplete this year's balance, don't throw it away.
- Save your receipts. Even though most transactions will automatically be substantiated, it is important that you keep records in the event additional documentation is required
- You can log into the Navia website and track your expenses and account balance.
- If you lose your card, call Navia immediately at 1-800-669-3539. Navia customer service hours are 7am - 7pm (Monday - Friday)

Using your benefits

To access your benefits, swipe your Navia Benefit Card to pay for eligible health care and daycare expenses. Funds come directly out of your FSA and are paid to the provider.

Expenses paid using the Navia debit card do not require you to submit a paper claim. If an expense using the debit card requires substantiation, Navia will send you a "Request for Receipt" letter requesting additional documentation. For this reason, you are urged to always save your receipts.

You can also submit claims online, through Navia's smartphone app for Android and iPhone, email, fax or mail. Claims are processed within a few days and reimbursements are issued according to your employer's reimbursement schedule. Be sure to include documentation that clearly shows the date, type and cost of the service. After you incur eligible expenses, you may file claims for reimbursement. You will not owe taxes on this money.

If you do not use the debit card for a particular purchase, you will need to follow the process for reimbursement in the Filing Claims section.

How the Card Works

With the debit card, you can pay for expenses such as your prescriptions, copays and deductibles at the time of service, if the merchant participates in the Inventory Information Approval System (IIAS). The IIAS recognizes whether an expense is eligible or ineligible for reimbursement by a health-care FSA. In most cases, you will not be required to submit a claim or receipt. However, always save your itemized receipts, in the event you receive a "Request for Receipt" letter or email from Navia. If you receive a request for documentation from Navia, you must return the requested documentation within 21 days of the date of the letter to ensure your Navia debit card remains active.

The debit card is accepted at health care related merchants and service providers such as doctors, dentists, and vision care centers. You will not be able to use your Navia debit card at gas stations, convenience stores, bookstores, etc., even though you may be able to purchase over-the-counter medicines at these locations.

You may be required to provide an itemized receipt when you receive services from your medical, dental or vision provider and the amount charged is not equal to a copay amount. Because cosmetic procedures and devices are not eligible expenses, Navia will require an itemized receipt and/or an Explanation of Benefits from your insurance carrier to confirm that the expense is an eligible expense.

Filing Claims

1. Get a receipt that identifies the product or service and the date it is received.
2. If the expense is for a health care-service that might be covered by your health, dental or vision plan, send a claim to your health, dental or vision plan. Even if you haven't met your deductible, this will allow your expense to be recorded so it will apply toward your deductible. You can be reimbursed from the FSA only for eligible expenses not reimbursed by your health, dental or vision plan.
3. Submit the claim online via the Navia website or through Navia's app and upload, fax, or mail your receipts to Navia Benefits, the claims administrator or fill out a claim form and send it to Navia at:

Navia Benefit Solutions
PO Box 53250
Bellevue, WA 98015

Forms are available on the Navia website.
4. Attach a copy of the receipt with service dates or the explanation of benefits form you receive from your health, dental or vision plan after you file a health claim, if applicable. Keep a copy of the claim for your records. You may need to submit additional claim information, such as a doctor's prescription, in situations where proof of a medical diagnosis is required (such as smoking cessation classes). If faxing, include your name and universal identification number (UIN) on the fax cover page or the receipt itself.
5. If Navia has questions about the claim, you will receive a written notice from Navia within 30 days of submitting your claims, however, substantiation requests for debit card claims may be sent to you up to two months after the charge is incurred. The notice will state the specific reasons for the inquiry, tell you if any further information is needed and tell you what you should do if you want to resubmit a denied claim for review. You will have until December 31 of the following plan year to respond.

If you want any reimbursement to be directly deposited into a particular bank account, you need to sign up for direct deposit on the Navia website.

You can submit claims as often as you want. You do not have to meet a certain dollar amount before you submit a claim, nor do you have to submit a separate claim for each expense. Your submission can include any combination of health care and dependent daycare expenses. Each time you receive a check from your FSAs or a notice that a payment has been deposited directly into your bank account, you will also receive an account statement (for both accounts) on the check stub. This statement will tell you, for the plan year, the dollar amount of claims that have been submitted, payments that have been made, deposits and account balances. You will receive a reminder in November before the plan year ends to help you in planning to avoid forfeitures. If you wish to receive additional information, find out your account balance, or have a question about a claim, call Navia at 1-800-669-3539 or visit the Navia website.

It is your responsibility to make sure that your expenses are considered eligible for reimbursement from your FSAs. The claims administrator, Navia, requires that all IRS provisions are met. If you are audited by the IRS, you may have to produce records and documentation to prove your reimbursed expenses were eligible. If any expenses were not eligible, you will have to pay the tax on those expenses as well as any resulting tax penalty. Be sure to keep copies of all claims, including receipts, for your records.

Claim Determinations

For Health Care Spending Accounts: You will be able to submit, and be paid for, claims up to the amount of your annual contribution as soon as the eligible expenses are incurred.

may review pertinent documents in the plan sponsor's possession.

For Dependent Day Care Spending Accounts: If you submit a claim for more than your account balance, you will receive a check only for the amount in your account. The rest will be sent to you as contributions from your pay are added to your account.

If You Forget to Submit a Claim

All claims must be for services and expenses that were incurred between the date your participation began and August 31 (for exception, see "Grace Period"). However, Navia will allow you to submit claims up to December 31 after that period ends, as long as the expenses were incurred during that period. Remember, the date the service was received determines whether that service was incurred during the correct period, not the date the bill was issued or paid.

Appeal Process

1. You or your authorized representative may write to Navia requesting a review of the denial. You must do so within 180-days after you receive the written denial of your claim. Your request for review may include any issues and comments that you wish to be considered in the review.
2. Navia will respond to your request within 60-days.
3. If you still disagree with Navia's decision, write the plan sponsor and request that the plan sponsor review the decision.
4. The plan sponsor will make a final decision on your claim within 60 days. The sponsor will tell you the claim decision (in writing) and the specific plan provisions on which the decision was based. At any time, you
